Case No. 12-12020 (MG)

Jointly Administered

ORDER DENYING MOTION OF KENNETH C. THOMAS FOR RECONSIDERATION

Pending before the Court is the motion for reconsideration (the “Motion,” ECF Doc. # 8463) filed by Kenneth C. Thomas (“Thomas”).¹ Through the Motion, Thomas asks the Court to reconsider its Order (the “Order,” ECF Doc. # 8108) sustaining the ResCap Borrower Claims Trust’s (the “Trust”) objection to Claim Number 3728 (the “Claim”) filed by Thomas. For the reasons explained below, the Motion is DENIED.

The Trust’s objection to the Claim was included in the ResCap Borrower Claims Trust’s Seventy-Sixth Omnibus Objection to Claims (No Liability Borrower Claims) (the “Objection,” ECF Doc. # 7736).² Thomas filed an opposition to the Objection (the “Opposition,” ECF Doc. # 7862), and the Trust filed a reply (the “Reply,” ECF Doc. # 7967).³ The Court held a hearing on January 14, 2015 (the “Hearing”); Thomas appeared by telephone. On February 17, 2015, the Court issued the Order sustaining the Trust’s Objection and disallowing and expunging the Claim in its entirety. On February 26, 2015, Thomas filed the Motion seeking reconsideration of the Opinion.

¹ On February 26, 2015, Thomas filed the Motion styled as a notice of appeal, but it was not entered on the docket until April 10, 2015. (See id.) On March 3, 2015, Thomas filed a motion virtually identical to the Motion but re-styled as a motion for reconsideration (the “Second Motion,” ECF Doc. # 8250). While this Order pertains to both the Motion and the Second Motion, references will be made solely to the Motion.

² The Objection was supported by the declarations of Kathy Priore (the “Priore Decl.,” ECF Doc. # 7736-3) and Norman S. Rosenbaum (the “Rosenbaum Decl.,” ECF Doc. # 7736-4).

³ The Reply was supported by the supplemental declaration of Kathy Priore (the “Priore Supp.,” ECF Doc. # 7967-1).

In the Motion, Thomas argues that the Court erred by concluding that the Trust satisfied its burden of rebutting the prima facie validity of Thomas's Claim to the extent it was based on alleged inaccuracies in affidavits of non-service of a foreclosure complaint filed in Illinois state court (the "Foreclosure Action"). (See Motion at 2–3.) Thomas attaches to his Motion documents filed in the Foreclosure Action, including affidavits of non-service (see id. Ex. A at 6–7), an affidavit to allow service by publication (see id. at 8–14), and a certification of publication (see id. at 15). According to Thomas, the affidavits of non-service set forth false statements regarding the special process server's attempts to locate him. (See Motion at 4.)

Under section 502(j) of the Bankruptcy Code, "[a] claim that has been allowed or disallowed may be reconsidered for cause." 11 U.S.C. § 502(j). The Bankruptcy Code does not define "cause," but when deciding a motion under section 502(j), the court should:

[a]pply the same analysis that it would to a motion under Fed. R. Bankr. P. 9023 (incorporating Fed. R. Civ. P. 59) or Fed. R. Bankr. P. 9024 (incorporating Fed. R. Civ. P. 60), depending on whether the movant . . . sought reconsideration within [fourteen] days after the entry of the order disallowing the claim, or did so only later.

In re Terrestar Networks, Inc., No. 10–15446 (SHL), 2013 WL 781613, at *2 (Feb. 28, 2013) (collecting cases). Rule 9023 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure (the "Bankruptcy Rules") incorporates Federal Rule of Civil Procedure ("FRCP") 59, which allows a party to move to alter or amend a judgment. See FED. R. BANKR. P. 9023; FED. R. CIV. P. 59. Bankruptcy Rule 9024 incorporates FRCP 60, which authorizes relief from a final order under certain circumstances. See FED. R. BANKR. P. 9024; FED. R. CIV. P. 60(b). Because Thomas has not established that relief is warranted under either Bankruptcy Rule 9023 or Bankruptcy Rule 9024, his Motion for reconsideration of the Order is DENIED.

The standard applicable to a motion for reargument or reconsideration is identical to that applicable to a motion to alter or amend a judgment under FRCP 59(e). Henderson v. Metro.

Bank & Trust Co., 502 F. Supp. 2d 372, 375 (S.D.N.Y. 2007); accord Samuel's Temple Church of God in Christ v. Parade Place, LLC (In re Parade Place, LLC), 508 B.R. 863, 868–69 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2014) (citations omitted). Bankruptcy Rule 9023 provides that “[a] motion . . . to alter or amend a judgment shall be filed . . . no later than 14 days after entry of judgment.” FED. R. BANKR. P. 9023 (emphasis added). Further, Local Bankruptcy Rule 9023-1(a) provides, in relevant part:

A motion for reargument of a court order determining a motion shall be served within fourteen (14) days after the entry of the Court’s order determining the original motion, or in the case of a court order resulting in a judgment, within fourteen (14) days after the entry of the judgment, and, unless the Court orders otherwise, shall be made returnable within the same amount of time as required for the original motion.

BANKR. S.D.N.Y. R. 9023-1(a).⁴ Bankruptcy Rule 9006, governing the computation of the 14-day time period, provides:

When the period is stated in days or a longer unit of time:

- (A) exclude the day of the event that triggers the period;
- (B) count every day, including intermediate Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays; and
- (C) include the last day of the period, but if the last day is a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the period continues to run until the end of the next day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday.

Id. 9006(a)(1); see also In re 231 Fourth Ave. Lyceum, LLC, 513 B.R. 25, 29 (Bankr. E.D.N.Y. 2014) (“In bankruptcy cases, Bankruptcy Rule 9006 governs the computation of time periods, not [FRCP] 6.” (citing FED. R. BANKR. P. 9006)). Thomas’s Motion was filed three days after the Court entered the Order. Accordingly, it is timely under Bankruptcy Rule 9023 and Local

⁴ Local Bankruptcy Rule 9023-1(a) derives from Former Local Bankruptcy Rule 13(j) and is an adaptation of Civil Rule 6.3 of the Local District Rules. See BANKR. S.D.N.Y. R. 9023-1 cmt.

Bankruptcy Rule 9023-1(a). However, relief under Bankruptcy Rule 9023 is not warranted because Thomas has not identified any “intervening change of controlling law, the availability of new evidence, or the need to correct a clear error or prevent manifest injustice.” Kolel Beth Yechiel Mechil of Tartikov, Inc. v. YLL Irrevocable Trust, 729 F.3d 99, 104 (2d Cir. 2013) (citation and internal quotation marks omitted).

A motion for reconsideration is not an appropriate “vehicle for relitigating old issues, presenting the case under new theories, securing a rehearing on the merits, or otherwise taking a ‘second bite at the apple’” Sequa Corp. v. GBJ Corp., 156 F.3d 136, 144 (2d Cir. 1998) (citations omitted). The affidavits of non-service Thomas references in his Motion were submitted by the Trust in connection with its Reply. (See Priore Supp. Ex. Q.) The Reply was filed five days before the Hearing, and Thomas appeared at the Hearing by telephone and had the opportunity to address any alleged inaccuracies in the affidavits of non-service at that time. Thomas has offered no explanation for his failure to timely address purported inaccuracies in the affidavits of non-service previously filed with the Court. Nor has Thomas identified any clear error the Court made in its review of such affidavits in the Order, particularly in light of the fact that Thomas did not, and still has not, offered any countervailing evidence to rebut the statements made in such affidavits, other than his own statements in the Motion. However, Thomas’s time to respond to the Trust’s arguments concerning improper service of process has passed. He may not use his Motion to relitigate old issues, and his Motion for relief under Bankruptcy Rule 9023 is DENIED.

FRCP 60(b) permits a court to grant relief from a final judgment or order for the following reasons: (1) “mistake, inadvertence, surprise, excusable neglect”; (2) newly discovered evidence; (3) fraud, misrepresentation, or misconduct; (4) the judgment is void; (5) the judgment has been satisfied, released, discharged, or it is “no longer equitable;” or (6) “any other reason that justifies relief.” FED. R. CIV. P. 60(b). Whether to grant a motion for relief under Rule 60 is within the discretion of the court. Stevens v. Miller, 676 F.3d 62, 67 (2d Cir. 2012). A motion for relief from judgment under FRCP 60 “is generally not favored and is properly granted only upon a showing of exceptional circumstances.” Marrero Pichardo v. Ashcroft, 374 F.3d 46, 55 (2d Cir. 2004) (quoting United States v. Int’l Bhd. of Teamsters, 247 F.3d 370, 391 (2d Cir. 2001)). The party seeking relief under FRCP 60(b) bears the burden of proof. See Int’l Bhd. of Teamsters, 247 F.3d at 391 (citation omitted).

Because Thomas is pro se, the Motion is held “to less stringent standards than formal pleadings drafted by lawyers” Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519, 520 (1972). Even so, Thomas fails to establish adequate grounds for relief under FRCP 60(b). Thomas has not established any mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect, nor has he identified any newly discovered evidence, fraud, misrepresentation, or misconduct. See FED. R. CIV. P. 60(b)(1)–(3). Additionally, Thomas does not argue that the judgment is void or has been satisfied, released, discharged, or is otherwise no longer equitable. See id. 60(b)(4)–(5). Relief under FRCP 60(b)(6) is warranted “if extraordinary circumstances are present or the failure to grant relief would work an extreme hardship on the movant.” ISC Holding AG v. Nobel Biocare Fin. AG, 688 F.3d 98, 109 (2d Cir. 2012) (quoting Motco, Inc. v. Barr (In re Emergency Beacon Corp.), 666 F.2d 754, 758–59 (2d Cir. 1981)). However, Thomas has not set forth any extraordinary circumstances or extreme and undue hardship required for relief under FRCP 60(b)(6). Rather, he attempts to relitigate issues previously determined by the Court. To the extent Thomas seeks relief under Bankruptcy Rule 9024, his Motion is DENIED.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
